Process Status

Last updated: February 21, 2023

This screen shows the processes currently being processed by the ABR module.

These processes will include importing statements, automatch functions, reconciliations and more.

Any processes running will be shown, along with a percentage completion, giving an indication of how long the process will take.

